GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Children Smothered.

NEW YORK, Jan 15.—Fire broke out to-night on the second floor of a tenement in [illegible] street, in the room of Michael Co[illegible], while he and his wife were absent. The flames were extinguished with little damage, but Cohen's children William, aged five, Hannah, aged four, and Louis, an infant, who were locked up in the rooms, were suffocated and were removed to the hospital in an unconscious condition. The children caused the fire by drawing burning coals from the kitchen stove.

Lamar Getting Well—Barksdale Still Ahead.

JACKSON, Jan 15.—Senator Lamar's recovery is certain.

There is no change in the senatorial question.

The Trouble Ended.

WHEELING, Jan 15.—The Hawk's Nest trouble has ended.

The Hayden Murder Case.

NEW HAVEN, Jan 15.—Argument in the Hayden case was concluded this morning. The judge's charge will be made to-morrow morning. It is expected that the case will reach the jury by noon.

The Texas Style.

[illegible], Jan 15.—A special from Huntsville says that J J Elkins ex-sheriff, was shot dead by Peter Grier to-day. An old feud between the two was renewed in a saloon, when Grier ran out to his wagon, got a gun and shot Elkins four times. Grier surrendered.

[illegible] Savings Bank Goes.

[illegible], Jan. 15.—Much excitement has been created by the discovery of defalcation [illegible] of Cashier Roberes of the savings bank. The bank to-day closed for the [illegible]. The loss is little short of $100,000. [illegible] It is hoped and believed that depositors will not suffer. There is curiosity to know how the cashier lost the money [illegible] lost it all. It is known that he [illegible] in California tule land speculation [illegible] all he invested, and was unfortunate in other investments. If he dabbled it was in mining stocks, through [illegible] named in the San Francisco [illegible]. The stockholders are liable [illegible] their stock.

A Big Mining Suit.

[illegible] Dun's commercial agency, and [illegible] of the No Name mine in [illegible] county, against the Carbon Consolidated Mining Co., for ejectment, and claim [illegible] amounting to $160,000 for tres[illegible].

Tilden wants to Arrange Matters.

NEW YORK, Jan 14.—An intimate friend of Mr. Tilden who has very recently conversed with him in New York, expresses the firm belief that Tilden does not desire the next presidential nomination for himself but that he would like to be in a position where he could decline the nomination gracefully in favor of some candidate known to be acceptable to him. Whom Mr Tilden would really [illegible] cannot be [illegible], but indications point [illegible] McClellan.

The Louisiana Sugar Crop.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The Commercial Bulletin says that latest news received with reference to the Louisiana sugar crops sums up as [illegible] all planters have finished [illegible]. The crop is estimated at about [illegible] hogsheads of sugar against 206,000 in [illegible].

NORFOLK, Jan. 15.—The Dismal Swamp canal was sold to-day at public auction for $[illegible]000. It was purchased by the bondholders.

THE MURDEROUS UTES.

[illegible] is Owing—The Origin of the Outbreak.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—The Tribune's Washington special says: Western members are not pleased with the interior department in the Indian question. It is understood that this delay is favored by General [illegible] on the ground that if a war is to [illegible] it is better that it be postponed until troops can take the field. Senator Hill, of Colorado, visited Ouray and tried to draw the wily chief into conversation but did not meet with much success. Ouray has evidently been "coached," or else his native [illegible] would not permit him to speak for fear he would prejudice his case. He fought shy of every question the answer to which would have revealed his intentions, [illegible] in every case that he preferred to wait till the secretary had given him an idea of what the government would do. He made one satisfactory statement and that was that his people wanted peace and would be willing to settle upon a new reservation, provided they were given 160 acres for each family and a sum of money with which to buy a [illegible] outfit, together with some presents. The house Indian committee began its investigation into the cause of the outbreak to-day, taking the testimony of Gen Adams. He thinks Meeker was largely to blame for the outrages. Miss Meeker will be examined on Saturday, but it is not expected she will add anything to what she has already told the public in her public interviews.

The Terms Stated to Chief Ouray.

Senator Hill, of Colorado, had a long talk to-day with Ouray and other members of the delegation, with a view to convincing them of the advisability of acquiescing in the demands made by the secretary of the interior. They are, in brief that the White river culprits shall be surrendered and that all the Utes shall consent to relinquish their reservations in Colorado and settle as farmers on the Uintah reservation. Senator Hill assured them that nothing short of compliance with these terms can possibly save them from trouble and ultimate destruction. He is satisfied that there will not be any serious difficulty in obtaining their speedy consent to the last mentioned of these terms, but he says that Ouray insists, with apparent sincerity that he will be unable to deliver the prisoners alive. There seems to be considerable probability that the government will ultimately solve the problem by conveying an intimation to Ouray in some way that it will accept the prisoners either alive or dead provided they are actually and promptly delivered.

FIGHT WITH INDIANS.

Major Morrow Strikes Victoria and Puts Him to Flight.

NEW YORK, Jan 15.—A Herald special says that Major Morrow overtook and fought Victoria on the 12th but that the chief escaped leaving his dead on the field.

WASHINGTON, Jan 15.—The following telegram regarding the engagement between Major Morrow and Chief Victoria and his followers was received at the war department to-day:

CHICAGO, Jan 11.

To Gen. W. T. Sherman: Major Morrow telegraphs from the head of the Rio Percha, Sierra Negra, New Mexico, Jan. 13th, that he struck Victoria [illegible] the 12th at 3 P. M. and drove him till [illegible]. He made a stand and evidently thought he could check [illegible] but finally gave it up and went to the jump. The country is inexpressibly rough. Morrow reports that he will strike him again to-day or to-morrow on the [illegible]. Several hostiles were killed and wounded. Morrow's loss was Sergeant Gross killed and one Indian scout wounded. Col Hatch thinks the Indians being hard pushed will go to the Gila river and back to Mexico, but hopes that they will make another stand and give the troops an opportunity to punish them severely.

Indian Raids.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 14.—A Tucson dispatch says: General Carr reports from Fort Bowie, Jan 12th, that General Trevino with several hundred Mexican troops is pushing the Victoria band of hostiles northward from Chihuahua. On the 1st, prospectors in the Florida mountains were surprised by thirty Indians and one killed and two wounded and their stock captured. On the [illegible] instant 58 Indians were near McEwen's ranch going toward Black Range, Major Morrow in pur[illegible]

RAILWAY MATTERS.

Train Rates to the East—A Railroad War Brewing.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CHICAGO, Jan 1[illegible].—Charter [illegible] grain from Chicago to the eastern [illegible] is complained that [illegible] rates kept up [illegible] forwarded to Buffalo [illegible] two roads will [illegible] from there [illegible] the other roads [illegible] per 100 lbs, or about half per cent rat[illegible]. The joint executive committee of the trunk lines meets in New York on the 2[illegible]th, when [illegible] rates will be considered [illegible] probable that it will be [illegible] about February 1st. At present all the western roads are suffering greatly [illegible] slackened business [illegible]. A railroad war of some proportions is brewing among western roads over the apportionment of the Colorado business. The Northwestern road having set up a claim for a partnership in the pool which carries Colorado freight to Missouri river points and that request having been refused it has threatened a large cut in rates to Chicago and Rock Island by [illegible] the lines open between Chicago and St Paul for business. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and the Milwaukee & St Paul have also joined in the fight against the Northwestern and it is intended to force the issue and its settlement immediately. Pending the settlement a general western [illegible] war is probable. Commissioner Fink has been informed of the situation.

Tehuantepec Railway.

NEW YORK, Jan 15.—The Commercial Bulletin says a cable dispatch received at the office of the Tehuantepec Company in this city dated Jan 10th says that the consulting engineer and chief engineer had arrived at the City of Mexico and were cordially received by President Diaz and members of his cabinet. Arrangements were being made to send engineers to the isthmus under escort of government officials who were instructed to give every aid in the prosecution of the work in hand. The dispatch also stated that former railroad staff previously sent out had arrived in safety and that the work was progressing most favorably. President Learned is convinced that there will be no difficulty whatever in securing all the money required to complete the enterprise as he believes the railroad is bound to be a success and will open up the most direct route from Great Britain to Australia as well as China and Japan and the Indian possessions. He has not much faith in the Nicaraguan canal scheme and says that even should it be finally constructed the Tehuantepec railroad could put down rates to such a low figure that it would not pay to send business by canal.

So far there has been over $[illegible] subscribed by private parties to carry on the work. The entire amount to be raised is between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 and the balance required will be obtained by the issue of preferred certificates or 7 percent bonds and mortgages. It is believed that more than $3,000,000 will be required to complete the road should the Mexican government pay the subsidy agreed upon in the charter, namely $12,000 per mile on the completion of each three miles of road. It is estimated that a good portion of the road can be built for that sum per mile. It is also calculated that the harbor of Goalzacolas will be completed within the next twelve months so as to admit vessels drawing 25 feet of water and with wharfage accommodation at the mouth of the river measuring over 2000 feet face. It is then intended that steamers shall ply between New York and ports in Great Britain and Goalzacolas direct and also to have branch steamers running along the coast. A Goalzacolas ships are now being taken for surveying and arranging for a harbor on the Pacific side which will be the means of a canal into the lake at that point.

Railroad Consolidation Scheme.

NEW YORK, Jan 15.—The Sun says that it transpired about noon yesterday that the Boston directors of the Union Pacific Railroad Co., were here holding a session in conference with Jay Gould in reference to a consolidation of the Union Pacific with the Kansas Pacific Railroad Co. It is learned that the consolidation in its essentials was practically decided upon three months ago and only details remained to be settled. These details were the subject of discussion yesterday, but apparently final action was not taken upon them. Probably the stock of the two companies will be taken up on equal footing as they are selling at nearly the same price in the market, but the arrangement of debt will cause more trouble. A prominent director in both companies ventured a remark that there was some ground for reports about consolidation but he was not at liberty to speak upon the subject until details are formally agreed upon.

An Important Railroad Project.

NEW YORK, Jan 15.—A new railroad project was launched here to-day, the Pueblo & St Louis Railroad, to build from Pueblo, Colorado, down the Arkansas valley to the great bend in the Kansas 310 miles to which point a short connection is in the meanwhile to be built by the Kansas Pacific Company from its Salina extension at McPherson and by the Missouri Pacific from Wichita, Ks, which is expected to be reached by the latter company during the coming summer. The portion of the line in Colorado 150 miles it is understood will be built by the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad Company and the cost of the line is estimated at $10,000 per mile. A peculiar feature is that it is contemplated to build the road by the issue of stock without bonds. The primary object of the line is to supply the large demand of emigration in the treeless valley of the Arkansas for coal and timber from the foot hills of the Rocky mountains and a counter demand for hay, grain and provisions for the mines of Colorado. By the connections named the line becomes a short central line from St Louis to Pueblo and puts the Denver & Rio Grande and the mountain lines of Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and Utah into connection by a water grade across the plains with the Missouri & Kansas [illegible] and the rest of the Gould system in the east.

The S. L. K. & A. R. R.

OSAWATOMIE, Kas, Jan 11.—At the annual meeting of stockholders and directors of the St Louis, Kansas & Arizona Railroad here to-day the following officers were elected: S. H. H. Clark, president; [illegible] A. Talmage, vice president; [illegible] G. Warner, secretary; O. L. Garrison, treasurer.

THE PUEBLO CASE.

Arguments in the Matter before Judge Marble, Law Officer of the Interior Department.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Jan 15.—Judge Marble, law officer of the interior department, to-day heard arguments on the question [illegible] rec[illegible] of Commissioner Williamson [illegible] of the Pueblo case [illegible] retary of the interior [illegible] action. It has been [illegible] the only portion of [illegible] upon which arguments would be heard was that which relates to the boundaries of the Pueblo reservation, but Judge Marble in behalf of Secretary Schurz to-day announced that he was willing to [illegible]

THE NEW ELECTRIC LIGHT.

Edison has more Trouble with His Great Invention—Price of Stock Falling.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Jan 1[illegible].—The [illegible] reports having visited Edison's [illegible] Menlo Park yesterday [illegible] his carbon horse shoe [illegible] failing to detect the cause up to the present time. Edison [illegible] lamps hitherto used [illegible] to discover the weak point [illegible] heat emitted by the light [illegible] the place where the platinum wire enters the lamp and the air gets in. [illegible] about fifty lamps burning [illegible] which has been used forty days. A new glass blower has been engaged and modifications may be made in the lamp allowing [illegible] the heat emitted. The Post says Edison and his assistants are not down-hearted and hope to overcome the newly discovered difficulties in time to introduce the light into practical use in New York city before next winter.

Mr Edison was shown these statements last night. Some of these statements are false, said he, and some are quite true. The lamps have not gone out and the carbon horse shoes are not broken. That some of the lamps have been cracked and that air has thus gained entrance to the flames is true. This does not affect my invention. It is purely a mechanical fault, a trouble with the glass. I do not claim to have perfected that part of my lamp. I am still experimenting.

Edison has found that he can make an almost perfect lamp by using certain kinds of glass and shaping them by hand. But it would be expensive and as the very first object he strives to attain is to be cheap it must be made by machinery. He does not want it to cost more than 20 or 25 cents. Edison intends to increase the number of lamps in Menlo Park to 600 or 700 because he says that the more lamps he has to study and experiment with the sooner he will remedy the defect that is now his only obstacle. So far as could be learned yesterday there have been no sales of electric stock for some time. The highest bid is $1200 per share while none is offered at less than $1800 or $2000.

More Embarrassments.

NEW YORK, Jan 15.—The Graphic has a report from Menlo Park to the effect that the carbon horseshoes, the main reliance of Edison in perfecting his electric light have failed and that in consequence he has decided to suspend their manufacture. Mr Edison, however, is not down-hearted.

The Post referring to the same subject says some days ago many lamps which had been burning beautifully suddenly went out owing to the breakage of the carbon horseshoe. Some lamps were found to last not more than an hour and it was decided to suspend their further manufacture. Edison is now at work trying to find out the weak point which causes the trouble. No change can be found in any of the carbons which have been burning for some weeks. The edges are just the same under the microscope as before the carbons were put into the lamps. At present there are 50 lamps burning, one of which has now been in use for nearly forty days. Edison says that he has hard work in convincing people that his lamp is yet an experiment only.

SYMPATHETIC AMERICA.

Parnell and Dillon at Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Jan 15.—Parnell had an enthusiastic reception here to-night. There were immense crowds on the street and a torchlight procession composed of about a dozen different societies. An address was made at the Academy of Music to about 2000 persons. About $1500 were subscribed.

OMAHA, Jan 15.—Last evening an Irish relief meeting was held in the Academy of Music. Resolutions of sympathy were passed and a formal invitation was extended to Parnell and Dillon to visit Omaha. Stirring speeches were made by Mayor Chase, Judge Savage, Hon J C Cowin and John Rush. Messrs Parnell and Dillon will be enthusiastically received in Omaha and a liberal contribution will be made to Ireland's cause.

Sheriff Libby does not Recognize Lamson.

AUGUSTA, Jan 1[illegible].—The following [illegible] was issued [illegible]

[illegible]

(Signed) JAMES D. LAMSON, Acting Governor.

Sheriff Libby [illegible] refuses to recognize Lamson as governor and [illegible] to obey the order. He has [illegible] to-night.

Mayor Nash and the Police.

Following is a communication from Mayor Nash concerning the police force:

To Major General CHAMBERLAIN: I have the honor to submit that I will keep at the capitol only such police force as in my judgment events from day to day seem to render necessary for the preservation of peace and the protection of public property. In no case is [illegible] to deny any person [illegible] any of his rights and privileges. After his day admission to the public building will be confined to members of the legislature, and to those claiming seats therein and such other persons as you may direct.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
(Signed) CHAS. E. NASH.

The senate met at 9 o'clock and took a recess until three.

In the house the committee on elections reported giving the seat of Dunnell of Westbrook (rep.) to Merritt W. Stiles (Dem.). The report carried without opposition and Stiles qualified and took his seat.

Notice was given that hearing would take place this afternoon on the Vassalboro and Embden contested cases. Recess was then taken until 4:30 this afternoon.

A False Rumor.

A rumor that Gen. Chamberlain had recognized Lamson as governor proved false upon inquiry at headquarters.

A Denial.

The fusion caucus will be held this evening. Attorney General McLellan denies that he has been preparing a warrant for the arrest of Chamberlain.

What the Fusionists Will Do.

The prevailing opinion is that fusionist branches will proceed to the election of a governor to-day. If they do it will not have the significance of yesterday, and will probably be unaccompanied by any idea of the employment of force to break down the power of Gen Chamberlain, as they intended to do then. If they do this, it will be in order to make all progress possible before the decision of the court is reached. The fusionists claim that they have never thought of using force against Gen Chamberlain.

A Correspondent's Opinion.

CHICAGO, Jan 15.—The Times' Augusta special says: This move of the republicans is looked upon as their last card. Their men were getting sick of the game which leaders were playing and it became apparent they could not be held in line much longer. Therefore it was absolutely necessary for them to do something, but it is believed they have done the very worst thing they possibly could have done. They have formed a legislature without the least vestige of law to sustain them. They have no official roll, no certificates of election and no legislative returns and to cap the climax they propose to ask the opinion of the supreme court as to the legality of all other and regular legislatures which was organized according to law. Can the court pay any attention to the questions submitted by such an unlawful body? The best lawyers here say that they would stultify themselves to do so. The fusionists hold a caucus to-night and are in high spirits over the situation.

A Quiet Night.

The fusionists assembled to-day. Republicans away. The night at the capitol passed very quietly, a full guard on. The only thing irregular this A. M. when G. W. Martin attempted to pass the guard in defiance of police regulations and was summarily handled by the police. The fusionists are very reticent about expressing opinions of the events of last night. They are somewhat surprised and entirely unwilling to converse upon the subject.

A Card to the Point.

Wallace R. White, whose card of denial of bribery has been published, has been summoned before the bribery committee but refused to appear. The following is his card:

To Henry Ingalls, Chairman Investigating Committee. I have received your summons to appear before your committee charged with the investigation of alleged bribery of F. B. Swan and Moses Harriman. I decline to appear for the reason that you are not competent to send for persons and papers and not competent to administer a legal oath. Witnesses before you could swear to anything without incurring the hazard of prosecution for perjury. If Swan and Harriman had secured a bribe they would naturally swear falsely about it and if they merely put up a job they would be still more likely to swear falsely. When I meet them I want it to be before a tribunal that has power to enforce its decrees and to administer punishment. Your house of representatives is illegally organized or not organized at all and if you have any doubt on that point I shall be glad to have you arrest me for contempt and then have the authority of your process tested by writ of habeas corpus before the supreme judicial court. If I am not sustained by that tribunal I shall cheerfully appear before your committee.

(Signed) WALLACE R. WHITE.

The Republican Purpose.

AUGUSTA, Jan 16.—Hale in his remarks relative to the order of submitting questions to the supreme court said the representatives assembled here did not desire to control what the law did not give them nor to ride rough shod over any one as they might have done days ago but for the main purpose and great purpose indicated in the order, and when the court decided the questions the people of Maine will take the decision as the final disposition of the law upon the question of organization and it is expected that everybody in the hall will accept it as laid down by the court.

After Another Scalp.

AUGUSTA, Jan 16.—The house met at three this afternoon.

Robinson from the committee on elections reported as elected members certified by the governor and council and 76 had appeared and were qualified.

Dickey from the same committee, reported that the committee had unanimously agreed to report in favor of unseating Joseph Dunnell republican member from Westbrook and seating Merritt W. Stiles democrat on the ground that Dunnell had but two majority and two men at least voted for him who had no right to do so. It was a clear case and he moved that the report be accepted.

Hill of the committee said he had intended bringing the minority report. The committee was not appointed until Swan and Dunnell had no opportunity to appear, and he heard he was a greenbacker and had no love for the republican party but was true to do his duty fairly and squarely. He wanted no snap judgment and moved the report be recommitted.

Swan of Minot was for immediate action. This is a legal house and no power on earth can overturn it. This is no time for delay but for action. Fight and just we must triumph over disorder and anarchy. He was for seating Stiles at once.

Perry was ready to give Stiles his seat at once and why this delay from day to day? Our constituents are asking why this delay? Why are 100 or more [illegible] in this capitol and crowding these galleries? It is one of the games of intimidation of the republican party. Vote as your consciences dictate without intimidation.

Bradbury and Ingalls were for delay. We should wait and see if time would evolve peace out of the present excitement.

Hill said if we are right we can afford to wait and if wrong we have gone far enough. The report was recommitted by more than two to one—a triumph for conservative element. The objection to seating Stiles is to make a quorum. House then adjourned.

From the Lamson Government to the State Supreme Court—A Democratic Recital of Facts.

[illegible], Jan 15.—The justices of the supreme judicial court [illegible] in session at [illegible] court [illegible] a special messenger from Augusta [illegible] the following document to the justices:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, Jan 15, 1880.

To the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court:

[illegible]

JAMES D. LAMSON, Acting Governor.

[illegible] Secretary of State.

"Deep Laid Schemes."

AUGUSTA, Jan 1[illegible].—The fusionists held a caucus to-night presumably to determine upon the course to be pursued hereafter. The meeting was secret. It is reported that they intend to proceed to the election of governor and state officers to-morrow regardless of what may be the nature of the supreme court's decision of the questions submitted by the republicans. It is also said that they will await until a decision is rendered before taking [illegible] step.

Playing at Governor.

Trying to act Gov Lamson to-day appointed his staff.

Address to the People by Acting-Gov. Chamberlain.

This evening Gen. Chamberlain issued the following address to the people of the state:

To the People: While believing that I ought to do everything to allay agitation in the minds of the citizens of this state, I hereby give assurance that up to this moment calm counsels have prevailed and that I see no present occasion for public alarm. I regret that messages should be sent from any quarter which bring crowds of men of all political parties into this city. This is a great embarrassment in preserving peace and to reaching a proper solution of the difficulties before us. Whatever threats are made I have no fears for my personal safety. If our people will feel confidence that the dispositions made for their protection are sufficient although not intruded on public sight and would all keep quiet and counsel patience so that political and legal questions could be calmly considered our trouble would soon be in a way for settlement. My attitude towards the Hon. Mr Lamson as a matter of duty has been made known in my reply to his inquiry addressed to me on the 12th day of January. At the same time, I regard him as in a position to contribute in a high degree efforts to save us from anarchy and ruin, and justice requires me to say that he has by all the means in his power done so in keeping the field clear for a lawful and legal solution of the matters in issue.

JOSHUA L. CHAMBERLAIN.

Evidence before the Bribery Commission.

The bribery commission of the house held a meeting this afternoon.

Clark the greenbacker (the counted in) member of the house from Nobleboro testified that about a week before the meeting of the legislature, his brother came to him and informed him that a certain man wanted him to go and see him (Clark) and tell him if he would resign his position and give up his certificate he should have a good place in the Boston custom house as long as the republican party was in power. A few days after a man came to see him whose name he positively refused to give and renewed the offer of a place in the custom house and $1000 in money, $500 down and $500 more after the organization of the house. He positively refused and the man wanted him to come afterwards to a house in Augusta. The man said that the money he offered was his own. Clark was pressed exceedingly hard to give the man's name but positively refused.

Alfred I Kimball county attorney of Oxford was the next witness. He saw Swan in the Augusta house on Monday, the night of the organization and Swan told him that he had been informed that they were making efforts to buy up representatives. That he was going into it and get some money and expose them. Saw Swan again at noon the next day, when he (Swan) showed him a roll of bills which he said he had received from Wallace R. White if he would resign his seat in the house. This is contradictory of Swan's affidavit when he says he went from the court house where he received the money to Granite national bank and obtained a draft. Investigation was here suspended for the afternoon.

Massing the Troops.

At 5 o'clock this morning the Richard's Light Infantry of Gardiner had orders to appear at their armory at 9 o'clock this morning. The men were gathering there early this morning but there was no disturbance at the state house last night. No one is admitted without a pass to-day.

Chamberlain to be Dismissed.

BOSTON, Jan. 16.—An Augusta special says it is reported on good authority that an executive order has been prepared relieving Gen Chamberlain from his command. The order will be served this afternoon. The general has as yet no intimation to that effect.

Jos. L. Smith elected Governor by the Fusionists.

Swan of Minot moved and the house ordered that a committee of five be appointed to receive, sort and count the votes for candidates to be sent to the senate, and the speaker appointed the committee who at once proceeded to that duty. The names of Joseph L Smith and Alonzo Garcelon were the only ones printed on the ballots, and the report of the committee showed Smith and Garcelon had 73 votes. The announcement was greeted with applause, and the report of the committee was adopted. The senate unanimously elected Smith governor, he receiving 18 votes.

AUGUSTA, Jan 16.—At 11:50 the house sent a message to the senate informing it that Jos L. Smith and Alonzo Garcelon had been selected. It was moved to receive the message and proceed to vote.

Senator Strickland remarked that this was a legally constituted body in his belief, but should the proposed action be proved illegal he wished it understood that it would bind no one. He was in favor of a peaceful solution of the difficulty, and not in favor of resistance.

A committee was appointed to receive, sort and count the votes. For governor the vote resulted in the unanimous choice of Jos. L. Smith, 18 votes being cast.

Smith will wait for a Decision by the Courts.

Smith will be inaugurated this afternoon. A good deal of bad feeling is manifested. Although Jos L Smith has been chosen governor he will not issue any orders that will conflict with the position of Gen Chamberlain. He is not a rash man, and will see to it that his position is fully sustained by the courts before proceeding to action. He will await the decision of the courts on the questions pending before taking a single step that will interfere with the orders of Gen Chamberlain. Major Smith will not be recognized as governor by Gen Chamberlain.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan 15.

On motion of Davis, of West Virginia, it was resolved that when the senate adjourn to-day it be until Monday next.

A bill to establish a new land district in Dakota passed.

Maxey from the committee on postoffices, reported favorably senate bill for the delivery of dutiable articles in the mails and for indemnity for lost registered articles.

McPherson and Baldwin presented petitions of women asking a constitutional amendment giving women the right of suffrage.

Allison, from the committee on finance announced that he was directed by that committee to report back a joint resolution for the withdrawal of the compulsory legal tender power of United States treasury notes. The committee had made a verbal amendment to the resolution unanimously agreeing to it with an amendment, and directed him to report the resolution adversely. He understood that there was a minority report to be presented. Otherwise he should ask indefinite postponement of the resolution. He asked that it be placed on the calendar for the present. So ordered.

Bayard, from the same committee, presented the views of the minority accompanied by a resolution as follows:

The undersigned believing that the financial prosperity of the country, in order to be enduring and secure must be based upon money of actual and intrinsic value, and that our government has no power and is incompetent to endow its paper obligations with such value, and United States treasury notes in existence and in circulation being now redeemable in gold and silver coin at the option of the holder do recommend the withdrawal of the compulsory legal tender power of such notes and the passage of the following resolution. (Here follows the Bayard resolution heretofore published that treasury notes shall be receivable for all dues to the United States on duties on imports and shall not be otherwise legal tender.)

FRANCIS KERNAN.
THOS F BAYARD.

The amendment made by the majority in the phraseology of Bayard's joint resolution merely changes the words "United States treasury notes" to "United States notes."

Morgan presented the credentials of Luke Pryor, appointed senator from Alabama. Pryor took the modified oath.

The bill to relieve the United States treasurer from the amount now charged against him and deposited with several states was taken up.

Thurman opposed the resolution. He said the money belonged to the United States and should be paid according to the original understanding.

The morning hour having expired the bill went over and Merrill called up for consideration his resolution instructing the finance committee to inquire into the practicability of refunding the public debt at a less rate of interest than four per cent and made a speech thereon.

Adjourned.

House.

WASHINGTON, Jan 15.

Upson from the committee on military affairs reported a bill appropriating $30,000 for the erection of military posts for the protection of the [illegible] frontier. Referred to committee of the whole.

The house went into committee of the whole (Carlisle in the chair) upon the report of the committee on rules. After considerable debate and without action the committee rose.

Warner from the committee on banking reported back a resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to report under what law and conditions the United States treasury became a member of the New York clearing house, and whether said clearing house receives treasury certificates payable in silver coin in settlement of balances or whether [illegible] balances in standard silver dollars or silver certificates are prohibited by the rules of the clearing house. Adopted.

[illegible], chairman of the committee [illegible] reported a bill [illegible] the removal of [illegible] courts. Ordered printed and recommitted.

Whitthorne, chairman of the committee on naval affairs reported a bill which was printed and recommitted authorizing the equipment of an expedition to the polar sea.

[illegible] expressed his intention of speaking as one of its members did on the report of the committee on rules. The committee he represented was the committee on manufactures which was almost entirely ignored by the new rules. It had been created in 1819 while the committee on appropriations was not born until 1865 and yet when his committee had brought in its first bill in 15 years it had been taken away and given to the committee on judiciary. He thought that most of the committees of the house ought to report to the committee on manufactures. The great committee on ways and means certainly [illegible] because the question of tariff affected every manufacturing interest and should have the benefit of the wisdom of the committee on manufactures. He confessed that it staggered him at first to see why the committee on appropriations should report to his committee [illegible] but he found it devoted a large amount of time to manufacturing political capital. Every [illegible] should first have the revision of the old committee and not be decided by the new [illegible] the committee on banking. He wanted to appeal to the centre of the house if congress should pass a bill appropriating $50,000 for the benefit of soldiers who had been obliged to take greenbacks during the war. The question would cease to be a question of [illegible] and [illegible] question of manufacture and this would be found [illegible] the committee on banking and currency ought to be compelled to report to that committee [illegible] manufacturers [illegible] circulating medium (laughter). The committee on Pacific railroads should also report to it also the committee on commerce which ought not to report to the committee on appropriations but to the committee on manufactures first. It need not be sensitive, because it would get used to it. He continued in a very humorous vein making allusions on various members of the house particularly [illegible] and Wright of Pennsylvania, who at the head of the committee had gone in search of a general depression last autumn. [Laughter.] He had studied the history of that search and had followed the committee to Chicago. Chicago had been an unfortunate place to look for general depression because every industry there was booming. The committee had taken testimony there for a few days, and had then gently wended its way to Salt Lake. It thought that among the Mormons it would find the manufacturing element at its lowest ebb. [Laughter.] It had then scaled the Sierras had brought up on the slope of the beautiful Pacific and had there interrogated the sand lots, and one convention had the impudence to nominate his venerable friend Wright for the presidency—not at his wish but in spite of it. If the committee had come to the committee on manufactures for advice the result might have been better but as it was the committee had come back without finding any depression. The gentleman from Pennsylvania (Wright) should have looked at Ohio among his democratic brethren just after the election, if he had wanted to find depression. [Laughter.] This was a serious matter under discussion and he hoped justice would be done to the old and time honored committee which he had the honor to represent. [Laughter and applause.]

The debate which followed was confined exclusively to the question as to whether the committee on appropriations or commerce should have jurisdiction over the river and harbor bill and was participated in by Sparks, Scales, Warner, Keifer, Mills and Reagan.

Committee rose.

Converse introduced a bill for the establishment of lines in the Hot Springs reservation. Referred.

Executive communications were laid before the house from the secretary of the navy, asking for the appropriation of $10,000 to enable him to fulfil his contract with Vinnie Ream, for statue to Admiral Farragut. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Jan 15th.

The house after some miscellaneous business consideration was resumed of a bill requiring one half of the reserves of the national banks to be kept in gold and silver coins of the United States.

Price, of Iowa spoke in support of the bill, declared himself opposed to any tinkering with the currency either as to the quantity or quality of paper which was circulating. He was also opposed to taking away the legal tender quality of greenbacks. All prudent men spoke in thunder tones and said "Let well enough alone."

A New Political Organ at Paris—Gambetta's Behavior.

PARIS, Jan 15.—The first number of La Justice, a radical newspaper started by Clemenceau, a member of the chamber of deputies, made its appearance to-day. It demands adoption by the government of a frank, popular policy and the application of the principle of equity in all matters, including amnesty. It is thought La Justice will be for Gambetta what the Republique Francaise was for Thiers and MacMahon and make him unpopular with the democracy before he has consolidated his power over the more moderate element of the electorate. It is again said that Gambetta since installing himself in the Palace Bourbon has offended almost everybody by his pompous manners. He influences ministerial decisions and if a minister ventures to resist his orders, he pursues him.

VIENNA, Jan 15.—A dispatch from [illegible]

[illegible] Verhovay [illegible] editor of the Hungarian radical newspaper and attacked [illegible] a fellow member with Baron Mathenyi of an aristocratic [illegible] Casino club. Baron Mathenyi was interviewed in the matter. Partisans of Verhovay say that Mathenyi is a professional duelist, the best pistol shot in Hungary, and was put forward in the quarrel for the purpose of silencing Verhovay who is very distasteful to the aristocrats but popular with the masses. Last night a great crowd of students and workmen filled the street in the neighborhood of the Casino club uttering hostile cries. They finally stoned the windows. The police were repeatedly repulsed by the rioters and finally two battalions of infantry charged with fixed bayonets. Many persons were slightly hurt by stones and bayonets. A correspondent declares it is extremely doubtful who fired the shots but the belief is they proceeded from the rioters themselves. Certainly, he says, no orders were given the troops to fire.

PUGET SOUND.

The Snow at Seattle—The Sound Escapes the Storm of the 9th.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

SEATTLE, Jan 12.—Depth of snow up to this morning 52 inches. It commenced thawing at 9 o'clock and has been raining gradually ever since, and the snow is settling rapidly. A large number of old buildings have fallen from the weight of snow. The damage however is light. Throughout the farming districts a large number of barns and outbuildings have been demolished, and in some instances stock has been killed while a large amount of hay has been exposed to the weather. Farmers will be the principal sufferers. It is feared that should the snow go off suddenly, as now seems probable much damage will result from a freshet on the river bottoms. Aside from the unprecedentedly heavy snow fall, the weather has not been severe, the lowest thermometer for the past two weeks being one degree below freezing point. There have been no heavy winds to speak of.

Later Report—Two Men Frozen to Death—An Indian Killed—The Snow Going Off.

SEATTLE, Jan 13.—The snow is settling rapidly under the influence of a warm southerly wind and occasional rain. The damage done by the recent storm, so far as Seattle is concerned, amounts to about $2500. The buildings demolished consist of two warehouses, three blacksmith shops and a mill shed. Several out buildings and awnings were more or less damaged. Much injury was done at Olympia, Tacoma, Fort Townsend, Steilacoom, Snohomish and the several mill ports the exact amount of which, as also throughout the farming districts, can not be definitely ascertained.

Frozen to Death.

Two deaths, so far, have been reported. One case was that of a young man employed in the store of Ezra Meeker at Puyallup, who on Wednesday night started out to take some provisions to a destitute family, and getting lost perished in the snow, the body being found next morning. The other, a man named Mason, of Portland, who started from Kalama afoot over the N. P. R. VICTORIA, Jan 11.—On announcement that Oppenheimer, Onderdonk & Co have secured three sections of the Canadian Pacific railway, gives general satisfaction here, and the newspapers approve of it warmly, it being understood that Chinese labor will be excluded from the work, and that domestic manufacturers and productions will be increased. Great preparations are in progress for spring business.

The Weather.

Heavy storms and intense cold continue. The snow at Yale, on the mainland, is reported to be ten feet deep. Stock are suffering greatly in the interior, and business is everywhere at a stand still.

The Storm.

Friday afternoon a remarkable wind storm came on from the north west. The glass previously fell to 28.60. The velocity of the wind for one hour was estimated at 50 miles an hour. The air became filled with particles of snow which had previously fallen, and lay heavily on house-tops and trees. The wind soon increased to a howling tempest, and continued to fume and fret throughout the night. At midnight the cold was sharp, the snow was drifting badly and walks from which the snow of Tuesday had been removed were covered again. Two persons in this city were caught in the storm and nearly perished before assistance came.

Butchers have raised the price of meats 30 per cent in anticipation of a scarcity of feed and loss of stock within the past few days.

Resources of British Columbia.

Under orders from Ottawa inquiries have been set on foot to ascertain the capacity of the city and country to furnish supplies for the railway contractors. Leading workingmen, foundrymen, boot and shoe and other manufacturers, importers, farmers and stock-raisers have been interviewed on the subject and the result of the inquiries has been forwarded to Ottawa. We are told that the report is eminently satisfactory. The Canadian government desire to see the resources of this country strained to their utmost before encouraging the importation of labor and supplies.

DISTRESS IN IRELAND

It is apparent from the telegraphic reports that destitution prevails alarmingly in Ireland. If the [illegible] in the country is the work [illegible] of demagogues it is the [illegible] and [illegible] while tending [illegible] is nevertheless aggravated if not directly produced by the land system of the country, under which the resident tenant is forced to pay the last farthing of rents which the lands will bear even in prosperous seasons while the absent landlords expend or invest elsewhere the whole substance—the labor of an impoverished and exhausted people. In good years this is hard enough to be borne, but when a bad year comes the consequence is privation, destitution and starvation. Let us look at some of the features of the Irish land system.

The total area of Ireland is 20,15[illegible] acres. Of this one person owns [illegible] acres; three persons own each more than 60,000 acres; fourteen persons own each more than 30,000 acres; ninety persons own each more than 20,000 acres; 744 persons hold half, and 1942 persons hold two thirds of the whole of Ireland. And of the remaining one third a great part consists of lease-holds upon termination of which the remainders will revert to the great owners with all the improvements made upon the lands by the lease-holders.

But in addition to the fact that so large a share of Ireland is thus monopolized by so small a number of persons, a great part of these Irish land owners do not live in Ireland but in London, or on English estates or in foreign capitals. Their rents are collected by agents in Ireland, and are sent to England or abroad to be spent among strangers and to enrich them instead of being spent among their own tenants, farms, schools, charities and trades people. This absenteeism deprives the Irish people of the only compensation which could render the system under which these great estates are held excusable, viz: the presence and the active good influence of respectable resident landlords. The agent's principal duty is that of exacting rents and of rigorously insisting on the performance of the landlord's demands. Thus the natural tendency of the agent's work is to render him hard and exacting. The temptation of his work is to be much more than this, for his own ends and gain; and what remedy, what effective remedy has the poor tenant, with the landlord at a great distance and the agent with great powers close at home?

Property is said to have its duties as well as its rights, and the sentiment is a just one. But the Irish absentee land-owners forget their duties almost entirely, while they are only too keen in the enforcement of their rights. The powerful hand of the government enables them to rob and oppress the country continually. Starvation is at the door of hundreds of thousands, while the pampered few, backed by the government and supported by its whole power, exact from poverty its last farthing, and live in splendor and luxury in foreign capitals upon incomes wrung from the blood and tears of a people, and derived from estates founded centuries ago upon pillage and spoil. Is there any wonder that under this state of things, with two thirds of the country in the hands of 1942 persons, mostly absentee landlords, whose agents are preying on the country and exacting from it the last possible tribute, there should be many discontented and disaffected people in Ireland, and multitudes upon the verge of starvation? This condition of things is rendered all the more galling by the fact that the ancestors of these people were robbed of these very same lands by conquest, and that most of the present landlords have no title that is not based on robbery, and no rights which could not be overthrown with less violation of right than that by which they maintain their hold upon a plundered and suffering country.

FARMING AS A MONOPOLY.

Apprehensions are expressed in various quarters that the business of grain growing will ere long become a monopoly, and that the small farmers throughout the country will be impoverished. The three factors which are to bring about this state of things are, large capital, cheap labor and improved farm machinery. In the Atlantic Monthly for January an article appears entitled "The Bonanza Farms of the West," in which examination is made of the system of farming now being employed in parts of Minnesota and Dakota. This system, the writer conjectures, may in time become general. Description is given of a number of great farms in that region and the methods of working them. The farms range in size from 3000 acres up to 50,000 acres, and are as yet devoted almost exclusively to the growing of wheat. Every department of labor is systematized, and the best results are obtained. On one of the larger farms the total cost last season was forty-eight cents per bushel, including the expense of shipment to Chicago. In the estimate of cost was included ten per cent. interest on the entire investment. With wheat at eighty-five cents a bushel in Chicago, this would give a profit of $7 40 per acre over and above the ten per cent., allowing the yield to average twenty bushels to the acre. These operations are conducted solely with a view to realizing the largest returns on a given amount of capital, and have no special reference to developing the country or building up communities. In very few places were women and children to be seen and the men employed, if they had families at all, were remote from them.

The writer adduces statistics from the census reports to show that there was a rapid increase in the number of large farms in the decade between 1860 and 1870, and asserts that "the great land holders, with all the power of capital and cheap labor have entered into deadly competition with the small farmer, and further that within the last twenty years we have taken immense strides in placing our country in the position in which Europe is found after a thousand years of feudal robbery and tyranny of wealth. Against this competition, it is contended, the small farmer cannot maintain himself and his family and will eventually be left to want and starvation.

This is certainly a gloomy picture but has it been truthfully drawn? The improvement in labor saving machinery and the discovery of new economic forces are the chief agencies which render farming on [illegible] large scale possible. How then is the difficulty [illegible] supposing the writer above quoted correct in his conclusions? It [illegible] that [illegible] which [illegible] prove destructive [illegible] impossible for [illegible] by prohibiting the use of [illegible] results, machines [illegible] amount of [illegible] which [illegible] rights. [illegible] has been made by [illegible] to the creation by congress [illegible] to investigate this and other [illegible] bearing on the mechanical and [illegible] interests of the country. [illegible] few years hence all the wheat raised in the country will be the product of bonanza [illegible] and that all the small farmers will be in a starving condition has a substantial basis, then it is high time that congress should raise a commission to investigate the matter. [illegible] forecasting the results likely to follow [illegible] state of facts have often been in-dulged in and have almost invariably proven groundless. Some important factor is [illegible] out of the calculation and what is [illegible] appears fraught with disaster [illegible] Many branches of industry have been entirely revolutionized by the introduction of machinery and the concentration of capital, yet the great mass of working people are better off to-day than they have ever been before. Their burdens are made lighter and they have more of the comforts and luxuries of life than at any time in the past. When a new trade or occupation has been seriously interfered with by the introduction of new forces those employed therein gradually [illegible] themselves to the change [illegible] or seek other employment. So it would doubtless prove in the case of the small land owners if by the employment of large capital and cheap labor the bonanza farmer should raise the great bulk of the grain [illegible] in the country.

It would seem, however, to be a ridiculous supposition that the growing of wheat can ever become a monopoly. Where large capital is required the risks are correspondingly increased, and when losses are incurred from failure of crops or unprofitable prices resulting from over production they tend to discourage investments. There must be a large margin of profit to induce a single individual to invest in ten thousand acres of land and the necessary stock and machinery to work it, and the prospect of a reverse, even at intervals of five or ten years, would deter all except the boldest adventurers. On the other hand the small farmer, in bad seasons can manage to tide over for a year or two and could more readily recover lost ground than could his bonanza competitor. Then again the recent panic has shown that no matter how severely the equilibrium of the industries of the country may be disturbed they can be restored without danger of starvation to any class of workers. If mechanics can turn farmers so farmers may become mechanics should the necessity arise. But of all classes of producers farmers are most independent and furthest removed from want. They will no doubt be able to hold their own against the bonanza kings whose enterprise is yet little better than an experiment. At all events the possibilities of their being reduced to a state of starvation are quite too remote to cause serious alarm.

In the midst of all the news published daily from Maine the fact will not be forgotten that it was through a nefarious partisan crime that affairs in that state were plunged into the present chaos. The will of the people of the state fairly and lawfully expressed was wilfully and wickedly set aside for a partisan advantage. There are two men in the state, the late governor and his prompter and master, the arch-traitor Pillsbury, who if they had their deserts, would be hanged by the people without judge or jury. So monstrous a conspiracy against the will of the people as expressed through the ballot box and against the peace of a state, deserves both swift and exemplary punishment.

It would seem that the democratic party was resolved not to abandon its old habit of rebelling the result of elections when it doesn't win. This Maine business is a repetition on a small scale of the rebellion against the result of the election of 1860. Whether it will result better for that party than the rebellion of 1860 did depends a good deal on how soon and how completely the party backs down from the position it has taken in Maine.

The first Ohio district (Cincinnati) pays more internal revenue than any other district in the United States. Its amount for the last fiscal year was $10,883 458. The next district was the first Illinois which paid $8,270,947. These are great whisky districts.

Hon James S Holman died at his home in Polk county on the 14th inst, aged 66 years. Just half of his life was spent in Oregon. He was the first sheriff under the territorial organization also first after Oregon was admitted as a state—serving in all, as sheriff of the county three and one half terms. He also represented the county in the legislature two terms. In all of which he faithfully discharged every public trust, commanding the confidence and esteem of all.

Adgate's Glass Ball Casters!

FOR

Bedsteads, Bureaus, Parlor Tables, Dining Room Tables, Sofas, etc, etc,

AND FOR

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

WE WOULD RESPECTFULLY CALL ATTENTION to these new and beautiful furniture casters, consisting of fine, polished flint glass balls held in claws of fine bell metal or of malleable iron nickel plated. Besides their exceeding beauty, which is a sufficient inducement for their adoption, THEY POSSESS MANY DECIDED ADVANTAGES OVER THE OLD STYLE SWIVEL CASTERS. They are fast superseding the old style—a fact that they possess advantage of no mean merit. They are easily put on furniture in stead of the old style.

They add Materially to the Sweetness and Volume of Tone of Pianos and Organs

On which they are used by insulating the instrument. This statement we substantiate by reliable testimonials at hand. These Casters have attracted the attention of eminent musicians who have thoroughly tested their merit and unhesitatingly recommend them for improving the quantity and quality of tone. In addition to the valuable testimonials of prominent musicians east in our possession, we quote the following from gentlemen of rare musical attainments well known to the profession in Oregon.

MESSRS. AIKEN & ALLEN: After your having placed a set of the Adgate Glass Ball Casters on my Piano I must say that I am pleased with the effect. I find the instrument wonderfully improved in volume and brilliancy of tone. I can also certify to their advantages as a caster over the old style swivel caster. My Piano can be moved about over the carpeted floor with much greater ease with them than with the old style.

Respectfully, P H CARROLL,
Professor of Music.

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 17, 1880.

The telegraphic news page of The Oregonian is unable to accommodate the unusually full reports which we present to-day, and interesting dispatches may be found on the other pages of this issue.

CITY.

Church Improvement.—The Oregon Churchman says: "Considerable improvement has recently been made on St. Luke's church, Vancouver. A recess chancel has been added, 16 feet wide by 16 feet deep. At the right side of the chancel has been added a vestry room 16x10 feet, and on the left side a room for S. S. library 8x16, the roofs of the library and vestry rooms running at right angles with the chancel. The Sunday school is raising funds for the purchase of a stained glass window for the chancel, which we hope to obtain during the coming winter. A very fine altar cloth, handsomely embroidered, was recently purchased with funds raised by the young ladies of the parish."

Commutation of Sentences—Governor Thayer has commuted the following sentences: Frank Smith, convicted of burglary in Marion county, and sentenced March 2, 1878, to four years imprisonment in the penitentiary, on the ground that the punishment inflicted was adequate to the offense, evidence of reformation, and waiving merit money. Andrew Johnson, convicted of larceny in Multnomah county, and sentenced February 11, 1879, to one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary, on account of good conduct, faithful services in extinguishing fire, and waiving merit money.

Destroyed by Fire.—The house of George Watkins, at Rainier, caught fire behind the chimney Thursday evening about 7 o'clock. The alarm was given, and assistance arrived, when the fire was extinguished, as supposed. The ceiling and partition walls were considerably charred before the fire was put out. The furniture was put back in the house and the family retired about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and about 5 o'clock were awakened by fire breaking through the ceiling. They just had time to escape and save a few things, when the house was wholly consumed. Loss about $600.

Murder at Canyon City.—An old miner named Henry Stevens was murdered at Canyon City on the 10th inst, by a man named John Darby. A correspondent with much more modesty than sense, in writing of the affair, says that the particulars of the crime are "too disgusting to bear reduction to writing." Intensely bitter feeling towards the murderer prevails in the neighborhood, and he is now in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury.

New Telephone Poles.—Workmen were engaged yesterday in erecting poles for the wires of the Northwestern Telephone Company. These are very substantial and a trifle over fifty feet high, so that the wires will be above and not interfere with the lines of the old company. The new company expect to receive 100 instruments by the end of this month and will put them in position for subscribers without delay.

Anglo-German Institute.—Rev. J. Gantenbein announces in another column that he has engaged the services of Prof. J. Murphy, who will take charge of the higher departments in English and mathematics. Mr. Gantenbein will have charge of the advanced German classes, and Miss Annie O. Gantenbein will devote her time to the primary department in German and English.

Convocation.—The next missionary convocation of the Episcopal church will be held in St. Paul's church, Salem, on Thursday evening, Feb. 5th. The following clergymen have been selected to attend: Revs. Geo. F. Plummer, John Rosenburg, A. W. Wrixon, A. T. Perkins, R. W. Summers, J. W. Sellwood, A. S. Nicholson, R. L. Stevens and I. Taylor Chambers.

St. Matthew's Chapel.—By the destruction of this mission chapel of the Episcopal church, a Sunday school of eighty children has been disbanded, and a Sunday evening congregation deprived of a place of worship. It was considered a very growing and prosperous mission, and its friends and supporters propose to rebuild the chapel as soon as possible.

From Astoria.—The following special to the Merchants' Exchange was received yesterday, the 15th: British bark Ione arrived down in tow of the E. N. Cooke, at 10 A. M. yesterday. British ship Nelson arrived down to-day, at 3 P. M., in tow of the Ocklahama. Elder crossed out at 2 P. M., to-day. Albertine, Cordelia and Viola are in Baker's bay.

Hands and Feet Frozen.—John Harrington arrived on the boat from The Dalles last night and was conveyed to St. Vincent's hospital. His hands and feet were severely frozen during the recent cold spell, and it is thought that it will be necessary to amputate some of the members to furnish relief. He will receive needed attention to day.

Overland Mails.—Letter mail from California and the east has been received via stage and railroad for the past three days. Letters destined for the east have been forwarded overland, and will continue to be so sent until Wednesday morning. Transient newspapers will be held for the next outgoing steamer.

German Theater.—The dramatic section of the Turn Verein will present to-morrow night at Turn Halle the beautiful melodrama "Dorf und Stadt," with a strong cast. The piece has been thoroughly rehearsed, and will no doubt be a grand treat to the many German patrons of the society.

Large Boiler and Engine.—The Willamette Iron Works are engaged in constructing an immense boiler and a 150 ton engine for the saw mill of McMicken & Co., contractors for the Northern Pacific Railroad at Ainsworth. The machinery will be finished and forwarded about May 1st.

Nearly Finished.—J. Brandt, Jr., superintendent of the O. & C. R. R., is in receipt of advices from Roadmaster T. DeClarke that the iron on the west side road would be laid to Corvallis by Monday next. Mr. Brandt is preparing a time card which will be made public in a few days.

A Matter of Justice.—It should have been stated in The Oregonian of yesterday, that the admirable letter from La Center, W. T., detailing the recent fatal disaster at that place, was taken from the Vancouver Independent. The omission of the credit due was accidental.

Navigation Resumed.—A telegram to the O. S. N. Co. states that the John Gates made her usual trip yesterday. Passengers leaving this city next Monday morning will in all probability connect through to Walla Walla, although tickets will be sold only to The Dalles.

No. Four's Repairs.—The new floor and other improvements for the engine house of Protection Company No. Four, have been completed. Their engine which is undergoing a general overhauling at the Willamette Iron Works, will be ready for service in a few days.

New Church at Milwaukie.—The German congregation of the Evangelical Association of Milwaukie, H. W. Axthelm pastor, have bought the hotel building from Mrs. Heegenberger, to establish a church. Work will be finished for dedication in two months.

Recovering.—Jack O'Donnell, injured in the Bremen Hall disaster, is on a fair road to recovery under good treatment at St. Vincent's Hospital.

PERSONAL.

Charles Morton of British Columbia, is at the Holton House.

Capt. L. L. Williams, an unflinching republican from Douglas county, is in town. The captain says he is for Garfield for president and Grover for vice president.

AMUSEMENTS.

Dr. Simms gives his next lecture on Monday night, at Y. M. C. A. Hall. To-day and to-night he gives charts at the ante-room of the hall, where he is kept very busy.

Chas. Young, the well known barber, has located at No. 37 Stark street.

A. Ferguson would inform his old patrons and the public, that he has reopened his Hair Cutting Headquarters at his old stand, 30 Stark street, between First and Second.

BRIEF NOTES.

Weather very mixed.

Weekly Oregonian is just out.

The Fourth street railroad is in good condition.

The steamer Oregon will sail for Portland to-day.

District Attorney J. F. Caples has gone to Hillsboro.

Ten cents will buy a copy of the Weekly Oregonian.

There are seventy-two patients at St. Vincent's hospital.

If you want to obtain a full account of the storm, purchase a copy of the Weekly Oregonian.

The prevailing style of wide belt worn by the ladies is calculated to impress one with the belief that a great deal of leather belting is going to waist.

The dwelling which burned in East Portland Thursday evening was the property of Mr. Thompson and not of Prof. Parrish, as reported yesterday.

This is the way an exchange speaks of a young woman who was "kerosened:"

Oh, she was a maiden fair to view,
With her blonde back hair and eyes so blue;
But, alas! our life is but a span,
She started the fire with a coal oil can.

The canal at Oregon City had become full of drift, consisting of huge logs and immense trees, besides having four or five feet of mud lodged against the upper gates, which had to be sluiced out before boats could be allowed to pass.

Letters uncalled for at W. F. & Co.'s: David M. Deming, Judge B. F. Dennison 2, P. Kreiss, Michael King, Miss Tillie M. Newcome, N. W. Scott, Mrs Carrie Thomas, John W. Treloar, J. M. Vanderbut, Esq., Miss Flora Williams, E. Welch.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Leap Year Party.—One of the most enjoyable and select social events of the season was the leap year party which came off last evening at the hall of George Wright Post, G. A. R., corner of Taylor and First streets. The affair was under the auspices of the ladies connected with the post. The large hall was crowded to overflowing with ladies and gentlemen. Dancing was commenced at 9 and continued until about 2 this morning.

The dress and costume ball under the auspices of Mount Hood Hook and Ladder Co. of East Portland last night, was decidedly the most brilliant social event of the season. Neppach's new hall, in which the festivities were held, was tastefully decorated, and was filled with a large and fashionable audience, including quite a number of ladies and gentlemen from this city. The music was excellent, the dresses for the most part, elegant, and the enjoyment unalloyed. The East Portland fire boys, and especially the committees in charge, are to be congratulated upon the success which attended this pleasing event.

MR. MUIR'S SECOND LECTURE.

Mr. Muir will lecture again this evening at Turn Halle. His subject will be "Earth Sculpture." In his first lecture Mr. Muir explained to his audience how glaciers were constructed. To-night he will discourse on their functions—or on what glaciers have done and are still doing, in shaping and fashioning the earth's surface. He will describe the action of glaciers in the formation of valleys, lakes, canyons, rivers, soil beds, etc., as well as their influence in the development of mines. The lecture will be amply illustrated.

THE GREAT STORM.

DETAILS FROM THE WILLAMETTE VALLEY.

List of Persons Losing Property with the Character of the Losses from Many Places.

CONFIRMATION OF FORMER REPORT.

From correspondence and interior exchanges, and from the results of diligent inquiry, we are able to present this morning many new details of the great storm which ravaged the Willamette valley on the 9th inst.

Polk County.

At Buena Vista the storm did not leave as much as fifty yards of rail or plank fence standing unbroken in the neighborhood and in many instances laid it even with the ground the entire length of the string. Its destructive hand was felt severely in every quarter of the town. Four barns, a number of woodsheds, smokehouses and various other buildings were blown over; and a portion of the roof of the pottery building was lifted from its place and sent whirling to the ground or flying in the air. The solid old firs that had withstood the storms of more than three centuries, at last had to succumb, and their falling so fast and so many sounded like a general upheaval of the forest.

From Monmouth: On Friday about 11 o'clock A. M., this place was visited by the heaviest wind storm ever known in these parts. The windows rattled, the houses surged to and fro, and consternation was depicted upon the countenances of many of our nervous citizens; no one was killed. Mr. H. Lindsay's house was blown off the blocks upon which it rested, and badly demoralized. Mr. Stump's barn was unroofed and the hay left to the tender mercy of wind, rain and snow. McNeil's woodshed succumbed to the storm. The timber in the neighborhood suffered. Mr. Wakefield's barn was blown down, one horse killed and two crippled, wagon and hack smashed up. Mr. Luke Mulkey's barn, north of town, was unroofed. The south end of the Helmick bridge was broken down by the falling of a large tree.

Independence correspondence of the Dallas Itemizer reports that the storm was severe at that point. R. Shelley's barn was thrown down. Ike Butler's warehouse was thrown into the river. It had about 700 bushels of oats in it belonging to various parties, about 150 bushels of which have been recovered in a damaged condition. It is stated that not a rod of fence remains standing between Independence and Dallas. The wind, without further damage than the overturning of a few small outhouses, went on.

Smithfield: Mr. Ramsby's house was blown eight feet off its foundation during the storm on Friday. Fortunately none were hurt. No trains on the narrow gauge on account of the track being submerged in places.

The barn of Mr. H. Wakefield, near the Luckiamute, was blown down and a very fine horse was crushed beneath the ruins and killed; another horse belonging to N. Neely, was badly injured.

From the foothills near Dallas: Most of us are at work building fences. With the exception of blowing down fencing and timber the storm was a benefit to the stock ranches, as the snow was covered with moss for the cattle.

From the Dallas Itemizer: The storm of Friday was considered very severe here at that time, but since the reports of the havoc in other places, we have concluded that we had no storm here to speak of. The only damage done was the prostrating of fences and the blowing over of a few out-houses. Some buildings throughout the county were injured somewhat by being removed from their foundations, and a considerable amount of timber was blown down; but taken altogether our county escaped the ravages of the storm in a great degree.

The storm blew down the Eola Exchange and unroofed Mr. J. M. Long's dwelling house and Mr. J. M. Rowell's woodshed, three large fir trees across the road near the rocky branch and nearly all the large fir, ash and maple trees on the island opposite Eola, and at least one thousand trees in bearing distance on the river bottom, obstructing all the roads thereon. The damage done to timber would amount to several hundred dollars. Mr. H. Brunk had at least two miles of fencing blown down, exposing his fall wheat to the stock. Wm. Jones' shipping house, at the landing, was moved off its foundation by the wind and high water.

Linn County.

[From the Albany Democrat.]

Frank Wood's two story marble works at Albany, blew down.

Farmers from all parts of the county attending court, tell us that fences, especially those running east and west, are all down, and sheds and out buildings are terribly dilapidated. R. A. Irvine had a large stock shed, 24x60, blown down, and in it were seven fine horses. They were all hurt more or less, but none seriously, although one laid under the fallen building for an hour and a half. Harmony Grange Hall in the Powell district, was completely demolished. It went over sideways and the roof still remains in an upright position. N. P. Payne had a large hay shed, probably 100 feet long badly damaged. It was completely unroofed. Jas. and Wm. Gore had a couple of barns unroofed. The school house at Lebanon was shaken up considerably and racked in its joints. A barn was unroofed on John R. McClure's farm. Half of the roof of Wm. A. Paul's barn was blown off. The M. E. church at Harrisburg was considerably damaged. The foundation gave away and the building now leans over to the north, being out of plumb at the top about two feet. A great many chimneys were upset in Albany. T. P. McKnight tells us that the storm was fearful at Lower Soda, and timber was blown down in large quantities. Over one hundred trees were lying across the road between Lower Soda and the toll gate. John Shea says that it did considerable clearing at his place on the Santiam. He says that after the storm the river was so full of floating logs that he could have crossed on them.

A school house in King's prairie, the farthest settlement in this county on the north fork of the Santiam, was completely demolished by trees falling upon it. The roof of a barn belonging to Mr. Kinzer, over in the "Forks," was lifted up and carried away quite a distance. A. B. Morris had his shed blown down, exposing all his machinery to the weather. Riley Moore's smoke house blew over, leaving all his provisions exposed.

Benton County.

"Rialto," writing from Newport to the Corvallis Gazette, says: We have just experienced one of the severest gales; nothing like it has occurred since the settlement of the bay. It was southeast, lasted about five hours, and was terrible in its force. A barn belonging to J. J. Nye, in Newport, was blown down. The front of the town was washed and damaged considerably, as the tide was high and the bay as rough as the ocean itself. Wm. Mackey loses a barn and two valuable cows. The barns of Briggs & Denlinger, Samuel Logan, Kit Abbey, Al. Clouk, F. M. Stanton and W. W. Davis were blown down. The residence of Mark Imbrie, on Olalle slough, was destroyed. The fall of timber was fearful, and of course temporary buildings, sheds and fences were laid low.

Vessels at sea, no doubt, suffered, and we may anticipate the worst. There is a large whale ashore near Dutcher's, between here and Foulweather. From reports, eight or nine miles east of here the roads are literally blockaded with fallen timber. Saturday's mail failed to connect. No snow on the coast hills, but several miles from here it is five inches, and gradually deepens as you go east. Said to be 15 inches deep at Siletz. All the boats at Newport, except two, one belonging to Capt. George Stevens, and the other to Wm. Hammond, were smashed to pieces. Three times the sea washed over Capt. S. while attempting to save his from the surf. The Oneatta mill was unroofed. The saddle boards and some of the shingles of the Ocean House were hurled about promiscuously. It is reported that not a barn is left standing between here and Elk City. It is estimated that the whale that was washed ashore will yield fifty barrels of oil. Mr. Dutcher has Indians employed in stripping the fat. Mr. Miller's house, above Newport, lost its roof, and the old folks were turned out in the storm. The tide rose seven feet higher than was ever known; nearly all the old wharves are taken away. Abbey's front was washed away within a few feet of the Bay View Hotel.

Williams' front was all taken away. The binnacle of some vessel washed ashore in front of G. Stevens' house, which he secured almost whole, except that the glasses are broken.

A correspondent writing from Blodget's valley, Benton county, under date of the 11th, says: We have been visited by the most severe wind and rain storm which has ever been witnessed in this section. The wind began to blow Friday morning about 9 o'clock. It blew down the school house in this valley. The loss to the district will be several hundred dollars. A blacksmith shop was also blown down. Many small buildings were prostrated in King's valley. The house of Dr. Morgan was thrown down. A family was living in the building at the time, but made their escape. The belfry of the church yielded to the blast and came down with a loud crash. Fully two-thirds of the fences in the valley have been leveled to the ground.

In Corvallis, but little serious damage was done. Some two or three barns and a few outbuildings went down before the raging tempest, which lasted from about 11 A. M. to 3 P. M.; while signs, fences, loose lumber, shade and fruit trees, and a few chimneys yielded to the blow. It was, without doubt, the most destructive wind storm that ever visited this portion of the Willamette valley. The farmers have suffered most in the prostration of fences, which were laid flat for miles, their barns and sheds have been demolished, destroying much grain and hay, and injuring farm machinery. It is quite probable that large losses will occur in cattle, horses and sheep ranging in the timber, as the destruction of timber was fearful. We have not heard of a human life being lost. In many places the roads are blockaded by falling timber, and bridges are gone, rendering traveling very difficult and dangerous. The Yaquina mail was delayed for two or three days.

From King's valley: Fences everywhere were blown down. Trees were torn up by their roots or broken like reeds, before the blast. The steeple of the Evangelical church was carried off, and landed top down at a convenient distance from the church—damage, fifty dollars.

Dr. Morgan's house was blown over and is a total wreck. The family consisting of Mrs. Morgan and six children escaped before the house went over. All their household furniture that could be broken is ruined; chairs, tables, bedsteads, stoves and other furniture are completely smashed up. This is a severe blow upon the family as the doctor himself is away from home, in Eastern Oregon. Mr. Lyman Maxfield's house was lifted from its foundation but no particular damage was done. Several sheds and outhouses were demolished.

Washington County.

[From the Hillsboro Independent.]

The most violent and destructive storm known in the country since its settlement by white men occurred last Friday between the hours of 11 A. M. and 2½ P. M. coming from the southwest. It shook the houses perceptibly in the towns and exposed situations, though there is but little damage to report to buildings. In the woods the air was filled with limbs, the floating debris of the storm while the incessant boom and crash of falling timber resembled the roar of artillery. In exposed places where the timber had been thinned by fire or the axe, and on the edge of clearings, a large per cent. of it blew down and sometimes large areas all went down together. There were 500 or 600 trees on the track between Hillsboro and Beaverton. South of Cornelius not much timber fell on the track. Between Cornelius and Hillsboro only 16 trees fell across it. A small barn of Dr. Danger's at the Grove and a woodshed or two were blown down. At Cornelius the front of J. R. Spencer's old store was torn off and the W. O. R. R. company's large woodshed was completely wrecked. At Hillsboro the old woodshed belonging to the public school was blown down, also the chimney of the Good Templars' hall was blown over. Several barns and sheds have been partially unroofed in the country. Mr. J. Dix writes us a letter saying that the wind upset Mr. J. Fleming's barn on the Chehalem mountain, and although two horses were inside they were not injured. Mr. John Sthite's barn was partly unroofed. The greatest damage done by the wind however, is in the throwing down of fences, which on the prairies were generally leveled, and fences that were strongly staked and ridered even on the prairies generally were left standing. In the timber they suffered from falling timber, being completely broken up in places. No loss of stock in this county reported.

Miscellaneous.

Hon Thomas Hodgkin, proprietor of a fishery at Quinn's Landing, on the lower Columbia, reports that during Friday's storm, his shed, 80 feet in length, besides a large warehouse, fishing tools and fishing nets, were all blown into the stream and lost.

At Spring valley, Marion county, the great storm did a great deal of damage to the timber that skirts the valley, in fact almost the entire forest is blown flat to the ground. All of the fences will have to be rebuilt.

Czar of Russia.

We congratulate the Czar of Russia upon a narrow escape from an attempt on his life. In starting for Moscow, his baggage was sent on ahead, he, starting soon after passed it and reached Moscow safely, while the baggage was blown up. A tunnel was found running to a house one hundred and fifty feet from the point where the explosion occurred. It is supposed the author of this hellish plot was suffering from a diseased mind superinduced by severe pain in the back and kidneys. To prevent a repetition of like occurrences, it is said the Czar has sent to Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, Oregon, for a large shipment of the Oregon Kidney Tea.

In the Whole History of Medicine

No preparation has ever performed such marvelous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in the throat and lung disorders of children, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, Physicians use the Cherry Pectoral extensively in their practice, and Clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure where cures are possible. For sale by all dealers. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, wholesale agents.

We understand that Dr. D. D. Young, of Yankee Cough Syrup fame, sold over 100,000 bottles of this wonderful remedy in the U. S. last year. Over a million of sample bottles were given away.—Argus. Our druggists all have it now.—Ed.

THE DEATH-RATE OF

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it, and often find too late that a Fever or Lung trouble has set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken a cure would have resulted and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year, without a single failure known.

If a Man wants a Bottle of Whisky let him buy it and take it home like a man, and not sneak home with a bottle of "Bitters" or "Cordial," and pretend that it is medicine. If he wants a tonic that is something better than a temporary stimulant, he should get a bottle of Peruvian Syrup (an iron tonic) that will vitalize the blood and give durable strength to the system.

White's Prairie Flower.

Taken before retiring, will insure a good night's rest, with an awakening in the rosy morn to health, courage and vigor. For coated tongue, bad breath, sick headache, or any disturbance arising from dyspepsia or torpid liver, it is without a peer. Its action on disease is entirely different from any medicine ever introduced, quieting pains almost instantly. The hue and cry raised against it by patent medicine men, who have foreseen in its advent the destruction of their nefarious business, and the thousands of unsolicited testimonials flowing in from all parts of the New World is a sure indication of its great merits. Trial size at all Drug Stores. Half pound bottles 75 cents.

WASHINGTON Jan 1[illegible] —The treasury department is informed that the British government has issued orders permitting sheep from the United States to be landed in Ireland without quarantine and without being slaughtered at the place of landing

The Dear Women

Women suffragists fairly flooded the senate chamber yesterday on the call of petitions. Each petition has been carefully enclosed in an envelope and its contents described on the exterior in one and the same handwriting. Thurman presented [illegible] of the documents and nearly every other senator did several. Some of the petitions are from individual women who ask for the removal of their political disabilities that they may vote for state constitutions and state laws. Others are from women who own real estate and who say that they are heavily taxed each year for pauperism and crime while they have no power to suppress vice or regulate taxation

A Rumor that Hoyt is to be Removed

It is rumored that Commissioner Hoyt will be removed and that Postmaster Hayes of St Louis will be appointed to succeed him

Imitating Last Winter's Methods

NEW YORK Jan 15—McMahon chairman of the sub-committee on appropriations to whom was referred the bill for making an appropriation to pay the deficiency known as the marshals bill called upon the attorney general to-day and was informed that $7500 was expended in the first and second California districts during the last congressional election for the pay of deputy marshals. It was understood that the amount so expended was not over $7000, and no provision will be made it is said in the appropriation bill to pay the indebtedness

Return Letter Office and Other Postal Matters.

Representative Morry chairman of the house committee on postoffices has prepared an elaborate report to accompany his bill providing for the establishment of a return letter office which has already been favorably reported by the committee and referred to the committee of the whole. At a meeting of the postoffice committee this morning his report was adopted

Other Bills by Davis.

Representative Davis, also to-day introduced his bill providing for a government lease of unused portions of the presidio reservation to the city of San Francisco for park purposes

Davis introduced a bill as follows: Appropriating $100 000 for the erection of a post office in San Francisco, the selection of a site and construction of a building to be under the direction of the secretary of the treasury

Also a bill authorizing accounting officers of the treasury to audit certain claims against the Indian bureau for goods purchased from California merchants in 1873 and 1874 but not paid for by reason of exhaustion of the appropriation, and appropriating $6000 for the erection of a fog horn at Fort Point.

Davis also presented a petition in support of the last mentioned bill signed by officers of the San Francisco chamber of commerce, insurance companies and many prominent merchants

Pacheco introduced a bill appropriating $6000 for the erection of a fog signal at the entrance of the harbor of San Luis Obispo

Protesting against Higby's Removal.

Representative Page to-day read from collector Wm Higby, a protest against his removal, signed by Murphy, Grant & Co, Wm T. Coleman & Co, Sisson & Wallace, and about forty other business firms of San Francisco.

Senator Booth appended a certificate as to the high standing of signers of the protest and then handed it to the chairman to serve as an additional block against any favorable action on motions now awaiting consideration by that committee

Remark is made concerning this protest, however, that its signatures do not include any liquor or tobacco manufacturers, or other persons engaged in the branch of business which have brought them in contact with Collector Higby's administration of his office.

One of Slater's Bills.

Among the bills introduced in the senate is one by Slater to declare forfeited certain lands granted to aid in the construction of a railroad from Portland to Astoria

Davis' anti-Chinese Bill.

The bill introduced by Horace Davis to-day, concerning Chinese immigration, is a copy of the bill introduced in the last congress, providing for a capitation tax of $100 on every Chinese passenger carried in the United States in excess of one passenger for each 100 tons measurement of the vessels on which they arrive. His object in introducing this bill is simply to stimulate the attention of the education and labor committee to the Mongolian problem, and help to furnish them with all possible aid to its solution.

Purchase of Silver.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15—The treasury department to-day purchased 420 000 ounces of silver for the San Francisco, New Orleans and Philadelphia mints.

Statement of the Provisions of Warner's New Financial Bill.

Warner's bill in the house recites that on the first of January, 1880 the volume of paper money in the United States was $680 000 000, that it is constantly being increased by additional national bank notes, while metallic money is limited by legal restrictions and by the coinage of inferior precious metals, that the increase in the volume of paper money operates to displace and prevent the circulation of coin and that the law authorizing private corporations to put out their own circulation is opposed to public interest and sound principle, and enacts that after the passage of this act the issue of additional bank notes designed to circulate as currency shall cease.

Section 2 provides that for any necessary increase of currency, the mints of the United States shall be open to the public for the free coinage of gold and silver and standard coins on the same terms

Section 3 provides for the issuing of gold and silver coin and bullion certificates receivable for all dues to the government. All coin and bullion for which certificates are outstanding, shall be retained in the treasury for the redemption of the same, provided that such coin certificates returned into the treasury in the payment of dues to the government shall be reissued and that the bullion certificates so returned shall be cancelled and that the bullion for which they were issued shall be converted into coin

Matters in Committee.

The senate committee on commerce has referred the steamboat bill to a sub-committee, consisting of Herford, McMillan and Baldwin

The house committee on postal affairs has agreed to report favorably on house bill introduced by Dibbrel, which makes all public roads and highways post routes and authorizes the postmaster general to put postal service upon all such routes when the public service may require it

Also a bill introduced by Manning to prevent the unlawful handling and carriage of mail matter.

The house committee on agriculture to-day appointed the following sub-committee to conduct investigation into the administration of the affairs of the agricultural department: LeFevre (chairman) Hatch Anderson, McGowan and Dibbrell. The investigation is the sequence of a resolution introduced in the house by LeFevre and adopted some days since.

Back with his Wives.

Delegate Cannon and family has arrived from Utah

The Delaware and Chesapeake Bay Canal scheme

The secretary of war transmitted to the senate to-day from the chief engineer and accompanying it a copy of a report from Major W P Craig one of the engineers of the survey made on the peninsula of Maryland and Delaware in compliance with the requirements of an act of June 1878 with a view to the construction of a ship canal to connect the waters of Delaware and Chesapeake Bay. The new estimate for the Sassafras route amounts to $8 500 000 or about $500 000 more than previous estimates. The Chaptankut route is second on the list in point of cost its greatest advantages being [illegible] matters of freedom from obstruction by ice and the economy of the maintenance of its approaches

Big Postal Bill

Representative [illegible] to-day introduced a bill to establish an ocean mail service and to reassert the supremacy of the American merchant marine. It directs the postmaster general to contract for weekly mail service between Portland Maine and Glasgow via Queenstown between New York and Liverpool via Queenstown between Baltimore touching at Norfolk and Bremen and Hamburg via Southampton between Philadelphia and Liverpool via Queenstown between Charleston S C and Havre via Southampton between New Orleans and [illegible] semi-monthly service between New York and South America as far as the mouth of the river Platte Buenos Ayres between San Francisco and Hongkong via Hawaiian Islands to Yokohama etc postage to be fixed and determined by the postmaster general. It provides that contracts shall be made in the usual manner by sealed bids and awarded to the lowest bidder that vessels employed in the service under the provisions of this act shall be in iron screw steamships built and owned by Americans in American shipyards of American materials of the most approved models etc

Upon representation made by the Bee Keepers association the postoffice department to-day reconsidered its order that queen bees be excluded from the mails

The Louisiana Investigation

The senate committee [illegible] continued the examination of Kellogg's witnesses to-day. The [illegible] morning to a [illegible] from W K Spering to witness Seymour who was recalled [illegible] in which he [illegible] to pay $1500 [illegible] amount was required to [illegible] affidavits from [illegible] and others. That the money was paid by Kellogg to secure his election to the senate. Also an agreement was entered into between Blackstone Dix and [illegible] which provided for the division among themselves of the $1500. Seymour in his examination stated that after receiving this note from Spering he concluded that it was a contract entered into for corrupt purposes and subsequently refused to have any further connection with the matter. J J Soher gave testimony in behalf of Kellogg contradicting witness Murray

Mitchell, at present U S consul at Kingston Canada and who was formerly member of the Louisiana senate testified there was no truth in the statement that he had received money for voting for Kellogg. Pierre Maghere testified similarly

A Big Telegraph Scheme

NEW YORK Jan 15—A Times Washington special presents details of a telegraph scheme introduced in the senate yesterday in the form of a petition for the incorporation of a company by James A Scrymser of Cuba cable notoriety and William G Hamilton. It is surmised that the Western Union Telegraph Co is backing the scheme. It proposes establishing a submarine cable from Texas by the shores of Mexico, across Tehauntepec for which privilege has been granted by the governments interested and to extend this line by way of San Salvador Nicaragua, Costa Rica Panama and Equador to Peru, where connection can be had with established lines to Chili, Buenos Ayres and Brazil. The petitioners suggest that the completion of the railway across the Isthmus of Tehauntepec and proposed ship canal will open a direct trade between China India Australia and Japan by way of the Gulf of Mexico, and that this trade will be greatly benefited by rapid telegraphic communication. They ask the government to survey the route of the cable and to grant them a subsidy in the form of a contract for sending government messages

DEMOCRATIC ADDRESS.

The Sub-Committee of Five Hold Forth to the People of Oregon on the Beauties of the Demo-Confed. Theory of Government.

A Blast for State Supremacy in Close Imitation of the Style of the Southern Brigadiers

PORTLAND Ogn Jan 16 1880

To the Democrats of Oregon: By authority of the state central committee we publish the following and most earnestly commend it to your attention

There has never been a time in the history of the government when more than now it was incumbent upon democrats to stand by the old time traditions of their party

The constitution or rather a constitutional union is upon trial

The men who stand in the high places of the opposition and who voice its opinions in the arrogance of their power, are seeking to destroy the last vestige of constitutional limitation—which is the essence of constitutional law—and under the specious cry of a Strong Government or the National Idea, they hide the real issues and pervert even their own followers. Since this government was organized in the constitutional law, has always been and must ever be, both the national and the federal idea. We are one as a nation—but many as states. In whatever appertains to treating with the other peoples of the world and to those powers specially delegated by the states to the national government, we are a nation but in that which touches the private as distinguished from the public rights of the citizen we are a union of states.

These states have never surrendered, and never can, the unconditioned and absolute right to manage in their own way the internal domestic affairs of their own citizens

The recent extra session of congress has passed into history as the occasion of a contest between these two ideas

There they met in deadly conflict—and the pernicious theory that this country is purely a nation survived the conflict only because they could say to us, and perhaps truthfully, as of them—you states are not now limited or circumscribed in the exercise of any of their constitutional rights. That session ended and the masses of the opposition apparently forgetting —or perhaps remembering—the lawlessness, the shameless lawlessness of the "Strong Man" in Louisiana and in South Carolina, with one accord are calling for that same hand to be placed at the helm of the nation and at the throat of the states

Do democrats, does the country need more to emphasize this recent struggle and does it not come to us with the intensity of the most earnest conviction that the peril to constitutional liberty can be averted only by a stern and unfaltering adherence to the old fashioned faith of the father of the party

Republicans even in their best days, and before the lust of power had eaten away the honesty of conviction saw the truth and as loudly almost as ourselves spoke for the untrammeled right of each state to order and control exclusively its own domestic affairs

The republican convention of 1860 at Chicago which nominated Abraham Lincoln, among other planks in its platform had the following

"That the maintenance inviolate of the rights of the states and especially the right of each state to order and control its own domestic institutions according to its own judgment, exclusively is essential to that balance of powers on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depend and we denounce the lawless invasion by armed force of the soil of any state or territory no matter under what pretext as among the gravest of crimes"

How stingingly this honest republican declaration rebukes their party of to-day and the great captain who has been twice president. But the party has advanced. Less than eighteen months ago the republican convention of Iowa where the republican idea has fed and fattened upon itself in very literalness, declared that the national power gave and protected all and every right of the citizen. And this is the republican idea of to-day. It dominates their party completely controls them absolutely. To continue themselves in power they invoke and use upon all occasions this power of the nation and as in 1878, they crush remorselessly either the legislative or judicial power of the state whichsoever may stand in the way of their purposes.

Fellow democrats this pestilential heresy carries with it more of peril to the existence of our republican institutions than all the other dangers that surround us. This is a union but a union of states and the one is indivisible the other is indestructible or more aptly and as an able democrat has put it "an indivisible union of indestructible states"

The dangerous sentiment that speaks with directness upon the soil of Iowa but which has been indirectly uttered by almost every other republican state convention within the past eighteen months must be met and throttled. True to our early memories and with our shield locked we must move upon this common enemy and destroy him

Hamilton had his day and the powerful aid or assistance of Marshall helped to fix in the American mind the theory of the government but to-day, if there is one principle dearer than another to American freemen it is the right of the states in the language of the republicans of 60 to order and control exclusively their own domestic institutions and affairs

Recent events have made this the prominent issue all others are of secondary importance. The party which has from its organization made this its touchstone of political orthodoxy deserves and will receive the support of not only its own members but of all true American citizens who see the forecast of empire in the march of centralization

The strong government again upon us whether by votes or fraud means the end of republican institutions in America and this too whether we dishonor ourtraditions by giving a third term or by selecting any other politician who trains under the stalwart standard. Rally then democrats of Oregon and let you voice—first of his state [illegible] year—be for the rights of the states and for government within constitutional limitations

Upon the question of national finances we beg you to remember that we are Jacksonian democrats. Public and private debts whether Providentially or otherwise contracted must be honestly met and paid in money

Let us be true to this grand old leader of the party whose genius has made an imperishable mark upon his country's history and whose life was the great defender of the true democratic ideas upon the subject of honest money

Stand fast by these the cardinal principles of our party demand with unflinching earnestness a reform of and economy in all the branches of our public service whether state or national and we will march to assured victory not alone in June but also in the larger contest of November

But destructive as is success we [illegible] all [illegible] a vote and a fair count [illegible]

[illegible] the threshold of a national election [illegible] the American people [illegible] a majority of at [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

In concluding this address we are constrained to say that there are some [illegible] our party [illegible] to [illegible] and [illegible] who [illegible] and whose fealty to our common cause [illegible] been in [illegible]

We know [illegible] differences [illegible] but this we do know [illegible] very democrat [illegible]

Forget the feuds which the common enemy so sedulously seeks to keep alive and remember that we are all democrats engaged in a common fight to redeem and restore this government of ours

Send men to the [illegible] who will not seek to redress personal grievances nor to stand for a [illegible] faction. Let your representatives be in truth those who can and will look only to the interests of the great party whose servants they are. Let them [illegible] and remember only principles

Through all the changes we have lived as a party by our [illegible] has been [illegible] that we [illegible] party [illegible]

Clipper and Overland Freights

NEW YORK Jan 16—The clipper freight market is rather quiet and the volume of goods going forward by this way is much less than last month. The falling off is chiefly in the bulky kinds of agricultural goods the shipments of which are almost over for the season. The movement of other goods are also less especially in iron manufacture owing to the increased cost of raw material. On the whole the market is rather quiet. Rates are held firmer not because of any prospective improvement in offerings but because ships are scarce and owners refuse to let their ships at current rates. Therefore in order to procure tonnage agents are obliged to advance their rates and this too in the face of a new tariff of railroads which for many kinds of goods now going by clipper are lower than the old tariff

Tonnage under engagement for San Francisco is quite small. Two of the lines have one vessel each while a third line has a much less number than usual. This state of affairs has been brought about by a small freight list made lately and owners prefer rather to keep their vessels here than to make such a small showing on a long voyage. Ships are also scarce, there being but few pointing this way

Overland freights are rather quiet but still there was more doing than last week. In steamer freight there is nothing doing, nor will there be until accumulated freight on the Isthmus has been all forwarded

NEW YORK Jan 16—The demand for foreign fruits does not improve and except for citron prices are easier although there is no change in quotations. Small demand for dried apples at last quotations

The Liverpool Grain Market

LIVERPOOL Jan 16—A leading grain circular says that the wheat markets have been uniformly dull at a reduction of 6d to 1s per quarter. In both English and foreign descriptions there has been better inquiry at somewhat easier prices for cargoes of American red off coast, chiefly for the continent. All sorts of wheat on passage are difficult of sales at lower prices. At the Liverpool market to-day business in wheat continues limited and sellers accept a penny to 2d decline. Flour is 6d per sack cheaper. Transactions in corn were very limited at a half penny reduction

CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHEA or SEMINAL WEAKNESS or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence
